

OLIVER J. WALSH

Regional Director

Online Content Protection Operations

Asia Pacific Hub

Oliver Walsh is the Regional Director, Online Content Protection Operations, Asia-Pacific Hub for the Motion Picture Association International (MPA-I).

Previously with the City of London Police in the United Kingdom, Oliver worked as a police officer for 11 years before joining the MPA-I in May 2016.

Since 2014, Oliver had been with the Police Intellectual Property Crime Unit (PIPCU) where he was instrumental in its initial establishment and ongoing success.

Having gained specialist knowledge of intellectual property crime whilst attached to the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau, Oliver took on a leadership role for Operation Creative. This groundbreaking initiative brought together content protection organizations, advertisers and payment providers in an attempt to curtail the revenue made by websites engaged in content theft. He guided the Operation from conception through to implementation under PIPCU.

Oliver was also active as the UK representative to various international operations and forums such as Operation “In Our Sites” and the UK Public Safety Working group, helping to guide UK government policy towards the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers.

Oliver is an experienced and effective intermediary, able to drive discussion and achieve consensus with divergent groups. He holds a unique understanding of the needs of law enforcement and the requirements of industry. Oliver also holds a degree in International Relations from the University of Keele in the United Kingdom and attained qualifications in open source intelligence investigation.
